

Stuttering Tracking Sheet

You can track and graph your child's stuttering severity and your parental concern below. On the x-axis is each day of the month and on the y-axis is a 10-point scale. You can use different colors to track more than one variable at a time. Connect your ratings with a line to see your child's movement over time. Just fill in what year it is in the blank next to the month and you're off!
